CHINATOWN HEALTH CLINIC FOUNDATION

Dear Friends,

Thank you for generously supporting the Chinatown Health Clinic Foundation. Your support reaches Asian Americans and other vulnerable individuals to receive crucial health, education, and social services.

The Foundation continued to raise funds to benefit the Charles B. Wang Community Health Center in 2015. With your support, the Health Center provided care for more than 50,000 patients and 275,000 service visits in 2015. The Foundation is proud to partner with the Charles B. Wang Community Health Center, which continues to serve as an award-winning leader in community health care.

Your donations also support several scholarships in 2015. The Dickson Hee, Dr. Thomas Tam, and On Wong Troy and King Wah Mok Troy Scholarships provide career development and learning opportunities to the Health Center's frontline health care workers, alumni, and youth in the community.

We want to share this letter from Calvin Yu, a 2014 recipient of the On Wong Troy and King Wah Mok Troy Scholarship:

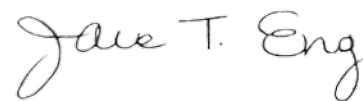

I had the honor of receiving the On Wong Troy and King Wah Mok Troy Scholarship in 2014, which was generously donated by the Troy family. I am currently attending Howard University College of Medicine in Washington, DC. As a fourth year student applying for residency in neurology, I look forward to giving back to the Asian American community as a physician in the near future. My dreams for pursuing medicine have been impacted very much by this scholarship, and I am truly grateful.

Your support is making a difference in people's lives, and in the Asian American community. Thank you for investing in the Chinatown Health Clinic Foundation and your belief that everyone has the right to quality, affordable, and accessible health care.

Sincerely yours,

Raymond Fong, MD.
